- "Powerpoint presentations can be made effective and interesting ways of teaching, but it is most of the times just reading out the slides, though some teachers explain well but a few are just restricted to the content in the slides and leave after they have read it out".
- "Most of the times when the practical demonstrations are over before time, the students are made to sit unnecessarily upto 4 or so. This itself is an invitation to nuisance by students and ends up making the practical class boring. This should rather be utilised by both teachers and students, and not as idle sitting".
- "During clinical postings students made to sit besides doctors so that we can observe the way they diagnose in a natural way!! Rather than to sit in a separate class where teacher came and give lecture on how to interact!!"
